PENILESS MORSE.
Has Nothing, Secret Testimony.
Worth Twenty-two Millions Two Years Ago, Hasn't Dollar Now.
Former Ice King Makes a Sworn Statement at Private Hearing.
Kept no Books of Obligations, He Says—Creditors Can't Get Cent.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles W. Morse, who in 1907 told Alfred H. Curtis, then president of the National Bank of North America, that he was worth $22,000,000 and who is now under sentence to fifteen years in the penitentiary, is not worth a dollar today. According to his sworn statement made in the Tombs, he does not own a piece of real estate nor a single share of stock nor a single bond of all the companies and properties that he controlled two years ago. His interest in the Consolidated Steamship Company, which he had designed to control the whole Atlantic coastwise traffic, is no more than that of the office boy. He owns no more of the ice trust, which he created, that does the humblest clerk. And he is worse off than even that. For he is in debt and he can't pay judgments against him. More than the $22,000,000 has flown. All he could get when his credit was high has gone with it. For instance, he owes E. J. Berwind more than $2,500,000. That is, in the time since October, 1907—a year and a half—the former ice king has lost probably $25,000,000, to say nothing of the prison sentence that is hanging over him.
TRY TO KEEP HEARING SECRET.
All of these facts came out in a deposition taken yesterday by a committee of the New York State Bar Association, headed by Solomon Hanford, counsel for Edward C. Jones, who had a judgment of $171,275 against the former ice king. Mr. Jones learned no more than that he couldn't get his money. This examination, which was conducted under an order from Supreme Court Judge O'Gorman, was held in the Tombs on April 30. Since then the lawyers and all concerned have carefully guarded the minutes of the stenographer.
At the very outset of the examination it became apparent to Mr. Hanford that his client would have to whistle for his money.
"I have given all my property to secure my debts to creditors," said Mr. Morse.
But the lawyer thought that there still were left equities which might represent something tangible. He was disabused of that notion. Mr. Morse said that a great many creditors who had held his stocks, bonds and real estate as sureties for loans had sold the property; in fact, most of them who sold so in a panic. When the crash of Morse's gigantic enterprises came the creditors disposed of their holdings in a hurry for whatever they could get. "Some of the parties (the creditors) sold at a loss."

HEIRESS MAKES RUNAWAY MATCH.
WEDS MAN FORBIDDEN TO CALL BY MOTHER.
Slips Away from Home With Suit Case, Meets Fiance and Elopes to Washington—Message to Parent Causes Prostration—Honeymoon at Atlantic City.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BALTIMORE, May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Louise Gill, a pretty heiress of 18, has eloped with her mother's friend and is now in a runaway marriage. She is the daughter of Mrs. Philip Hoopes of Calvertonville and the late James H. Gill. She was married in Washington last evening to Robert Dimpfel of Easton, Md., an athlete and a member of the Mount Washington Club. The couple had been acquainted only about a month and they were introduced to each other by a friend of the bride. The bride's mother, who is a widow, strongly opposed her marriage to Dimpfel, who had made but a few visits to the Hoopes home when she forbade his continuing his attentions.
Miss Gill left home yesterday morning, saying she was going to her tailor to have a gown fitted. She carried a suitcase supposed to contain the gown to be altered. She met young Dimpfel downtown and they hurried to Washington. As soon as they were married she sent a telegram to her mother, who was prostrated by the shock. The runaways have gone to Atlantic City for their honeymoon.
Dimpfel is the son of Col. E. B. Dimpfel of Easton, Md. He was in the navy for some time. His father left her $100,000 in Mrs. Dimpfel's right.

MISSOURI GOVERNOR RAPS FEDERAL COURT.
Hadley Charges Unwarranted Interference With Authority of State In Its Dealings With Railways—Attorney Called Liar by Executive.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.), May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In unmistakable terms, Gov. Hadley in an interview passes the lie directly at Attorney Frank Hagerman, and at the same time makes a bitter reference to the Federal Courts, charging unwarranted interference with the authority of the State in its affairs. "Men have gone to jail for saying less against the Federal tribunal than the Governor of Missouri now hurled at the court."
The split between the Governor and Hagerman is now complete and the rupture makes an entirely new situation in the rate matter. There was no end of surprise when the Governor issued the first invoice against the Kansas City lawyer, who represents the eighteen railroads, as it had been expected the two would remain on friendly personal terms, at least, during the controversy.
The Governor says: "Frank Hagerman's statement before Judge McPherson yesterday that I had written a letter directing to dismiss Mr. Jones's injunction suit against the railroads and had failed to keep my agreement is an unqualified lie. As was his statement to the Attorney-General of the United States that 'every preliminary injunction against the freight rates law was issued with the consent of the State.'"
"The only letter I ever wrote Mr. Hagerman upon this question was April 21, and that letter is as follows: 'It is still my idea that there will be no occasion to continue the St. Louis cases on the docket, but if I should decide otherwise a full opportunity will be given you and your associates to take such action as you may wish to take.'"
"I wrote this letter in response to a request from Mr. Hagerman and because at that time it was my understanding that all the roads intended to abandon the combination upon which the suit was based by putting into effect a 24-cent rate. April 22, when some four or five of the roads announced that they intended to carry out the combination as originally made I telephoned to Mr. Hagerman that I would not ask Mr. Jones to dismiss the cases."
"While the question as to what I did or did not say to Mr. Hagerman is not of particular importance, I do not propose to have words questioned in this controversy any more than I intend to permit any unwarranted interference by the Federal courts with the authority of the officers of the State of Missouri, or with the justice being done to the people of Missouri."

Women in New York Mob Two Law Officers in Bakers' Strike.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
BUENOS AYRES, May 7.—A bomb was exploded today at a street corner, presumably thrown by some person in sympathy with the strike of protest against the action of the police in firing upon a crowd of May Day demonstrators.
The explosion tore one policeman's leg off and fractured a little girl's leg.
Eighteen others were also injured.
The bomb was hidden in a basket of vegetables placed on the platform of a tram car.
A passenger heard a noise like the ticking of a clock coming from the basket and informed the police. The basket was removed by a policeman and the explosion followed. One arrest has been made.
A number of cars and cabs were operated today, though there was some disorder attending their progress through the streets. Business is at a standstill.
WOMEN RIOTERS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, May 7.—Women figured conspicuously today in street rioting, incident to the bakers' strike. Most of the trouble occurred on the upper East Side.
A woman customer leaving a bakery was attacked by a mob of women who were shouting and throwing bottles, bricks and clubs at her. The mob ran when she drew her revolver.
Another policeman had a similar experience with a crowd of fifty women who had attacked and slightly injured the daughter of a bakery owner. The women followed him into a butcher shop and attacked him viciously. They were driven out by other policemen.

SNOWSLIDE ENTOMBS STARVING MAN IN COLORADO.
Diary Found Beside Body Tells Story of Suffering and Slowly Approaching End—Long Absence from Town Starts Search Which Discloses Tragedy of Winter.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SILVERTON (Colo.), May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A diary found today beside the body of a man who died in his cabin, fourteenth miles east of here, told the pathetic story of his death in a few sentences, and revealed that he had lived for at least three weeks buried under a terrific snowslide, through which he was unable to dig.
Here is the way the diary reads:
Dec. 12.—Taken suddenly ill, in great pain.
Dec. 15.—Am getting worse.
Dec. 16.—Snowslide covered cabin today.
Dec. 25.—Christmas day, too weak to dig out of slide, can't get to town.
Jan. 1.—I believe I am dying.
Jan. 2.—Too weak to get up.
Jan. 3.—I can't get up.
Jan. 4.—I can't get up.
Jan. 5.—Unintelligible scratches.
So Flotias died of starvation, absolutely no food being found in the Mineral Creek cabin, where his corpse lay in the rude bed. Flotias had lived in this section for twenty-five years. His long absence from town finally started the search that resulted in the discovery of the tragedy.
JOAN OF ARC CELEBRATION.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
LYONS (France), May 7.—To the accompaniment of cannon and the pealing of great chimes, the ceremony of turning over to the cathedral and the clergy the banner of Joan of Arc was performed by the Mayor tonight.
Forty-two banners with mitre and crozier, were masses in front of the cathedral to receive the oriflamme. More than 100,000 spectators, many of them pilgrims from various parts of the republic, witnessed the procession and presentation.
The troops will continue tomorrow and Sunday.

CALIFORNIA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL DAUGHTER.
MISS VERGILIA BOGUE.
of San Francisco, voted cash prize as most beautiful girl in State and chosen queen of Portola carnival.
DREAM OF FAIR WOMEN.
MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN CALIFORNIA NAMED.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most beautiful girl in the State of California has finally been selected. But what a hard job it was! Over 2000 of California's most beautiful girls submitted their photos to the Executive Committee of the Portola Festival in San Francisco for judgment.
The staid business men of that city labored days over deciding upon the most beautiful girl. It was no easy task. Now these men are ready to announce their judgment to the whole world.
Miss Vergilia Bogue, a resident of San Francisco, is the honored young woman. She occupies a high social position in the metropolis, her father being Vergil Bogue, vice-president and chief engineer of the Western Pacific Railway Company, and one of the most prominent men in his work in the world. Miss Bogue gets a $100 cash prize and her photo will be used for the posters. She will be queen of the Portola Carnival, and will be furnished with a retinue and costly raiment.
The selection of Miss Bogue will do credit to the State of California, and every loyal son and daughter will feel proud of the splendid representative the Executive Committee has chosen.
Miss Bogue has had a most interesting career, and while only just out of her teens, has traveled the world over several times. Her family is one of the most blue-blooded in this country today.
Miss Bogue was born in Auburn, in this State, September 20, 1886. She is the daughter of Sybil Russell and Vergil Bogue.
Miss Bogue's mother was the youngest of a large family of children, who have since become famous. Her brother, Leslie W. Russell, became judge of the Supreme Court of New York, and her eldest sister was called the Queen of Northern New York by reason of her beauty. It is from her undoubted that Miss Bogue gets her queenly looks.
Many of the Bogues fought in the Revolution and are entirely a New York family. The De Grasses settled in Massachusetts in the latter part of the eighteenth century, and unfortunately lost their old Norman name by changing it to Wood. The Lawrences were also New York settlers. Both Miss Bogue's father and mother were born in Ogdensburg, N. Y. Her father was educated at Yale University, and has since become one of the most distinguished engineers in the world. His greatest work probably was the building of the Arroyo Road in Peru, that much-advertised road that runs above the clouds from Lima over the Andes. After six years' residence in South America, Mr. Bogue undertook the building of the Northern Pacific in Washington and the Baltimore and Maryland, and is at present directing the engineering work of the Western Pacific Railway.
Miss Bogue was educated in San Francisco and Portland, Or., in her childhood; but her real education began at the Packer Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., where she graduated at the age of 17. She then went to Boxwood Finishing School in Lyme, Ct., and then to Rolle Seminary, Rolle, N. Y. Miss Bogue has made two trips to Europe, and has traveled extensively through Spain, Algeria, Morocco, Italy, Greece, Turkey, France and England. She is an accomplished musician and has a voice of rare quality. She is an athlete, and is one of the most splendid types of women. She has written two books that will shortly be put on the market.
Miss Bogue is about five feet, ten inches in height, splendidly graceful, with an exceedingly graceful carriage; is of the brunette type, with large, dark eyes and with a strong, characteristic face. She is a girl who can do things.

Divorced Wife Swears She'll Put Tobacco Magnate Behind Bars.
Craftily Acquires Fortune and Declares War on Former Spouse.
Lays Case Before Jerome and Hopes to Get Indictments on Crime Charge.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Claiming to be mistress again of millions of dollars, following the rallying to her support of wealthy Southern tobacco grower Alton L. Webb, divorced wife of Brodie L. Duke, tobacco magnate, has declared open warfare against Duke and his associates with the avowed intention of sending them behind penitentiary walls.
Never was a vendetta planned so carefully. Since her arrest and conviction on a charge of swindling the Great Northern Hotel on a forged check and her alleged persecution at the hands of the millionaire tobacco man, the former wife has lived with her sole mission in life, that of vengeance.
With a woman's craftiness, which she has been out on bonds, waiting for a new trial, she has been scheming and planning. When she stepped out of Cook county jail last fall she was penniless and broken in health. Not deterred, she secretly went to her friends. A few of them still believe in her. Piece by piece she was weaving evidence which she says will mesh her former husband and prove him a criminal.
JEROME HAS EVIDENCE.
A few days ago she went to District Attorney Jerome in New York. Into his hands, she says, she placed the evidence. He, according to her statement, took up the case and will begin criminal action at once.
Here is the story of her plot to even accounts with her former husband: While the woman, whom the world had seen "broken at the wheel," was diligently picking up the loose threads of evidence she was secretly at work recapturing her lost fortune. To the South, where once she had been known as a leader among tobacco growers, she went under an assumed name.
In secret conferences the wealthy Southern growers met her. They laid out their business ability, and when she told them of her plot to "break" the tobacco trust they hailed her as the Joan of Arc.
Today Miss Webb opened up a suit of offices in the Metropolitan Hotel. In those offices is located a newly incorporated tobacco association, which she says, has a paid-in capital of $1,000,000 and options on $20,000,000 worth of tobacco. Miss Webb has $10,000,000 in her own name at her disposal, she declares, and she is head of the corporation to fight the American tobacco trust, her former husband's corporation.

TRAGEDY OF THE KITCHEN.
Husband's Bitter, Eggs Over Love, Takes Wings.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ST. LOUIS (Mo.), May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If Victor Johnson had used less soda and made lighter and more toothsome biscuits he and his wife, Elizabeth Blackie Johnson, might have lived happily, even though he did insist on doing all the kitchen work, which she thought was a wife's prerogative. But their domestic bliss was jolted, two eventful weeks, by the husband's sour biscuit.
Their cup of joy, as symbolized in the cups of coffee boiled by the husband, was bitter, and their brief romance was wrecked at a fortnight's end by the eggs the husband tried in too much lard.
Matters reached a crisis when Victor told Elizabeth she must get work and win the bread while he did the housework. She balked at that, for she had no trade, save cooking, and she couldn't reconcile herself to years of dyspepsia, eating his overdone biscuits. They separated and she sued for divorce today.

DINGLEY LEAD DUTY FAVORED.

Senate Votes to Fix Tariff at Old Figures.

Senator Clapp Argues for Downward Revision.

Several Democrats Vote With Republicans.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Senate today voted to fix the tariff on lead contained in lead at 15 cents a pound, which is the rate of the Dingley law, and of the pending bill as it was passed by the House.

Fifty-three Senators, including all Republicans, and Senators Hughes of Colorado, McNary of Louisiana, Democrats, voted for the duty. The vote was not significant.

During the day Senator Clapp of Minnesota spoke at length in favor of lowering the tariff duties, and Senator Owen of Oklahoma upheld the constitutionality of an income tax.

The session of the Senate was begun with the speech of Senator Clapp, who contended upon the policy of protection and referred to distinctions between a protective tariff and a tariff for revenue only.

Mr. Clapp declared that instead of Congress taking up the work of a complete revision of the customs duties it should have taken up one schedule at a time.

The promise of the Republican party, Mr. Clapp declared, was that the tariff should be revised downward and he asserted that this promise had been made in response to positive demand.

He said the position upon the part of the protective interests was that "we should let well enough alone on the part of the consumers that the tariff should be revised."

FOR DOWNWARD REVISION.
"You can't tell me," he said, "that the latter demand did not mean that the tariff should be revised downward."

To take any other position is mere play. The people understood that we were to have a revision downward, the men who made the platform understood it, and we understood it. Every body understood it, and no amount of sophistry can otherwise explain the popular demand and the party promise.

"If this promise," he said, "was for a revision that would mean the maintenance of the Dingley rates, then we are confronted by the ridiculous situation of the Chief Executive calling Congress together for nothing."

"If the demand for revision did not mean the changing of duties downward, it did not mean anything and we are indulging in a farce now."

The lead schedule was then taken up. Senator Stone thought 15 cents a pound on lead was more than it ought to be, even from the standpoint of the protection.

In the opinion of Mr. Carter, a decided majority of the Senate was in accord with the lead industry. The rate of 3-4 cents a pound, he declared, was ruinous. He defended the Aldrich rate of 15 cents a pound. The propositions of Mr. Stone, he characterized as elementary.

BRISTOW ON LEAD.
Resuming his opposition to the levying of any duty on pig lead in addition to the duty of 15 cents a pound, provided for lead ore, Mr. Bristow declared that it cost no more to make pig lead in this country than abroad.

Mr. Bristow was interrupted by Senator Aldrich, Hepburn, Borah, Smoot, and others, all contending he was laboring with a false premise, that the cost of producing lead was enough greater than abroad to justify the differential of 3-4 of one cent per pound as proposed by the committee on Finance.

Mr. Bristow said he would offer no opposition to the proposed duty on lead in ore, but he protested against any additional duty on pig lead, the product of the ore.

Senator La Follette read from a newspaper a statement of an agreement between the lead interests of the world by which they were assured of harmonious action in the matter of fixing prices. The statement also declared that the Guaymas and other lead producers were included in the combination.

Mr. La Follette then said that some years ago he had acquired lead and zinc ore property in Wisconsin, and that reason would withdraw his vote from the lead schedule.

A vote was taken on committee amendments to Section 173, the effect of which was only to check the duty on lead contained in lead-bearing ore at 15 cents a pound, which was the amount carried in the House bill. The amendment carried by a vote of 53 to 25.

HAT MEN IN WASHINGTON.
WANT DUTY KEPT ON GOODS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee were visited today by a delegation of hat makers, including wholesalers and dealers, representing twenty-eight States. The hat manufacturers were given an increase over the Dingley rates in the House bill, but the Finance Committee to about 25 per cent below the Dingley rates. The manufacturers assert that many of them will be driven out of business if these rates are adopted. They will call on President Taft tomorrow.

TROOPS ARE SHIFTED.

SULTAN DEPOSITE MONEY IN NEW YORK.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 7.—The Parliamentary Commission has learned that former Sultan Abdul Hamid recently deposited considerable sums of money in New York banks and it appears that he has in the neighborhood of $10,000,000 in German banks.

There is considerable disturbance in the district surrounding Constantinople and brigandage is being carried on in the very suburbs of the capital. This condition of affairs is a result of the rapid changes in government and probably can be laid at the doors of deserters from the former Constantinople garrison and political fugitives who have undertaken to live on the country. A party of American tourists, driving at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, outside of Pera, was warned by a native that it was unsafe to go any farther, as beyond was a group of bandits.

PROPERTY DESTROYED.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

BEIRUT (Asiaic Turkey) May 7.—An investigator, who has just returned from a trip to Kessab, reports that all the American property at that place has been completely destroyed by the Moslem raiders. The American property there consisted of a girls' high school under the direction of Miss Emma Chambers. Three-quarters of the native houses also have been destroyed, but the Armenian church and the new Protestant school building are still standing. Almost all of the people who fled from Kessab have returned to find their houses looted. They are absolutely destitute.

Some food and clothing are being distributed, but there is no system in the work and the supplies are inadequate. One band of Turkish reserves has been sent to Kessab, but they took part in the rioting and killing there the people cannot trust them. The protection afforded is in no sense sufficient. The situation at Deirul on the coast north of Kessab, still is critical.

CRUISER LEAVES GIBRALTAR.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

GIBRALTAR, May 7.—The American cruiser North Carolina left here today for Alexandria. The Montana is still coaling, but she will follow the North Carolina. The situation at Deirul on the coast north of Kessab, still is critical.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, May 7.—John Bigelow, the veteran author and diplomat who represented the United States in France during the Civil War, was a passenger today from Havre on the steamer La Provence. Mr. Bigelow said he regarded the present labor troubles in France as one of the most serious situations that country has faced in modern times.

"The government's weak position in the settlement of the postal strike," he said, "has incited the workers in all other departments to push out-rageous demands and the whole nation, which might have been fought and won at the time of the postal strike, must be gone over again."

PUBLIC PROTEST.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PARIS, May 7.—Both public sympathy and the law seem to be clearly against the Postal, Telegraphs and Telephone Employees' Association, which yesterday carried its strike syndicate or union under the laws of 1884.

This action placed the association on the same footing as the workers in unions and was calculated to give it the right to strike against its employer, the state.

The newspapers this morning with the exception of the extreme socialist, are disparaging in their denunciation of the stand taken by the association as an act of rebellion, and urge the government to proceed with energy and crush the insubordination before the movement engulfs the other categories of State employees.

THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTES is resolved not to tolerate the strike of the postal employees. It is confident of the government's ability to restore peace and order in the postal service, and approves of the declaration of the government.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) May 7.—The Colorado National Guard will be sent to the front line and the devil goes a-skiating.

Calmly, but with characteristic emphasis which left no doubt as to the meaning to be conveyed, Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, retired, in these words tonight expressed his conclusions regarding a movement to achieve universal peace through disarmament.

"There can be no peace except with a strong armament," said the admiral. "The proposition is precisely the same withdrawal of the troops now stationed there, will be used as general recruiting depots."

URGES UNITY FOR NAVY.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

Lack of Co-operation and Lack Business Methods Scored by Representative from Iowa.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Urging an imperative for the better interests of both the country and the navy, the need for greater economy and less friction between the line and staff of fleets, Representative Albert Dawson of Iowa, a member of the House Naval Affairs Committee, delivered the principal address at the banquet of the American Society of Naval Engineers.

A lack of unity of purpose in naval administration, Dawson said, is responsible for the present unbusiness-like manner in which the navy yards are conducted. If the different branches of the navy service would work in harmony there would be a healthier sentiment in Congress for larger naval appropriations, he said.

He alluded briefly to the trip of a special committee among the navy yards of the country recently, and the evidence of "late methods" and apparent extravagances that were found to exist in many instances.

He urged that the system of administration be brought up to date, with the resultant good to the navy and the country.

Miss Louise Wilson of Chicago Says She Will Not Postpone Her Wedding Day and Authorities Threaten Arrests—Circumvention Is Planned by Bridal Party.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chicago health department declared war on Cupid today when a quarantine was established at the home of Miss Louise Wilson, who, though ill of measles, insists she will be married to Arthur McCracken tomorrow.

Miss Wilson is a leader in South Side society and plans for her wedding were announced several weeks ago. She is quarantined at her home, 1515 South Dearborn street, where she is being nursed by her mother, Mrs. C. A. S. McCracken, mother of the bride.

"No wedding can take place there tomorrow," said the department officials, "and if an attempt to celebrate one is made we will be forced to make arrests."

Inspectors from the department notified Mrs. Wilson that her daughter's marriage cannot take place.

Mrs. C. A. S. McCracken, mother of the bride, said she would circumvent the city authorities.

"I don't believe there will be any postponement of the ceremony," said Mrs. McCracken.

Miss Wilson has decided that the marriage must be tomorrow, and there's the end of it.

FRUIT STRIKE CHECKED.
Trouble in Nicaragua Quelled by Arrival of Troops and Arrest of Fifty.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Bluefield, Nicaragua, says:

"The fruit strike, which assumed serious aspects the first week, has quieted down, and no more fruit is being destroyed by the strikers. The Nicaraguan gunboat Ometepe is patrolling the rivers, and fifty of the strikers are under arrest in the capital here. About thirty troops arrived from the interior yesterday to assist in restoring order along the Escondido and the Rama rivers, the scene of the greatest disorders."

For two weeks armed squads have been patrolling the rivers, destroying the fruit that has been cut off for shipment, but since the arrival of the troops this destruction has stopped completely.

FIFTY YEARS OF GOLD.
Semi-Centennial of Discovery of the Precious Metal Celebrated by Unveiling Monument.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
IDAHO SPRINGS (Colo.) May 7.—The semi-centennial of the discovery of gold in the Rocky Mountains was celebrated today, and old-timers were here from all parts of the State to take part in the ceremonies.

The feature of the day was the unveiling of a monument to George A. Jackson, the discoverer of gold in Colorado. One of the most interested spectators when the monument was unveiled was R. S. Allen, known to pioneers as Dick Allen, who prospected for gold in the early days.

In 1859 Jackson started on the prospecting expedition that resulted in the discovery of gold in Colorado. He first struck the precious metal in a small stream tributary to Clear Creek, about thirty-five miles west of Denver.

The legend on the monument unveiled today follows:

"On this spot was made the first discovery of gold in the Rocky Mountains by George A. Jackson, January 7, 1859. Placed May 7, 1909."

SEEKS REVENGE.

Were in formation, she was known as Miss Webster. Her husband's agents, she says, believed her incapable of harm, and had long since ceased watching her. They did not know of her activity in the South. She charges the closed enormous contracts in Texas, Kentucky and Virginia. In the former State the Governor was among those who was in conference with her. In that State, she says, she will practically control the output for next year.

Today she broke her silence. Her plans, she said, had been so well founded that they could not go amiss. The fortune, she says, she has built up is not the accomplishment of which she is proud. The ruin of her former husband is her goal.

"I have been notified to go to New York and appear before the grand jury," said Miss Webb today. "I will endeavor to have Mr. Duke and his gang indicted on charges of perjury and conspiracy, which will absolutely prove their guilt. The sole object in my life has been to be able to meet Brodie Duke on an even footing. My hope and prayer has been against the man who had compromised me will be behind penitentiary bars."

COMING TO CALIFORNIA.
NEW ORLEANS (La.) May 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] During the past month the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, according to estimates today, has turned over 700 immigrants to the Southern Pacific at this point for California truck farms. It is the biggest month on record. One of the largest parties went there last night, comprising 170 men, women and children. It is the families are Greek and Italian. They make splendid farm workers and thousands are now finding homes in the California rural districts. Railroad men say another large movement is anticipated this month.

SALOON IN DRY COUNTRY.
Court Grants License and Says Action Barring Liquor in Indiana City Is Illegal.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
BRAZIL (Ind.) May 7.—Nicholas Powers is preparing to open a saloon here, despite the fact that the county voted dry last Tuesday. Powers has previously attacked a remonstrance by which saloons were ousted from the city.

Judge Fortune of Terre Haute decided tonight that the remonstrance was improperly filed and granted Powers a license to operate a saloon. He had a right to grant a saloon license in a county that had voted dry.

ENGINEERS CALLED OFF.
Colorado People Surprised to Learn Secretary Ballinger Ordered Canal Work Stopped.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) May 7.—Surprise bordering on consternation was created here tonight when it was learned the government engineers in charge of the high line canal project, had received orders Monday from Secretary Ballinger stopping all work on the present.

Local officials profess their inability to understand the action of the government, inasmuch as one of the acts of Secretary Garfield prior to his retirement, was to sign the contract for the government.

It is the general belief here that suspension will be only temporary.

DYNAMITE KILLS TWO.
WINNIPEG (Man.) May 7.—Just before work on the spiral tunnel on Canadian Pacific Railroad, in Rock Mountain, near Field, was resumed last night, a dynamite explosion occurred, resulting in the death of two workmen and serious injury to others. The seriously injured were I. Bonner of Spokane, and M. J. Douglis of Rossland.

BOTH DROP IN PISTOL DUEL

Rivals Begin Shooting at Each Other on Sight.

Each Fires Three Shots Before Fleeing.

Jealousy Over Girl Cause of Bad Blood.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES

ALBANY (Or.) May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) William Herve and Henry Sullivan shot each other in a pistol duel at Gates, on the Corvallis and Eastern Railroad, thirty miles east of Albany today, and both were seriously injured. Trouble over a girl between the two men a week ago and both began shooting when they met at 11:30 o'clock this morning. Knowing that Sullivan would arrive in Gates this morning on the stage from the Gold Creek mining district, Herve announced that he would shoot him on sight. A friend of Sullivan's saw the stage before it reached town and warned him that Herve was waiting for him.

When the stage drove into town Herve was standing on the porch of the Gates Hotel. As Sullivan stepped from the stage both men saw each other at the same time and began firing at a distance of about twenty feet. Each man fired three shots before he fled. Herve was shot through the stomach, the bullet going clear through his body. Sullivan was struck in the right side of the neck, the bullet ranging downward and lodging in his body. It is said that Herve cannot possibly live and that there are small chances for Sullivan's recovery.

According to the story told by people in Gates, to T. M. Humphrey, mail carrier on the Corvallis and Eastern Railroad, who reached Albany tonight, Herve sent for a girl from Aumsville, Marion county, to come to Gates and meet him. The girl came, but through some misunderstanding Herve failed to meet her. Sullivan met the girl in Gates, according to the story received here, formed an acquaintance with her and took her with him into the Gold Creek mining district.

"This occurred about a week ago and Herve, learning of the girl's whereabouts, swore vengeance on Sullivan. The name of the girl in the case cannot be learned."

AMERICAN CONVICTED IN PARIS.

Two Years for Mining Frauds.

PARIS, May 7.—Charles Woods, an American who says he is a native of Sacramento, Cal., was today found guilty of swindling the French through the selling of shares in California mining companies, and sentenced to two years in prison and a fine of $500. According to the prosecution against Woods, he obtained something over $100,000 from his victims.

He had agencies in various French cities and issued alluring prospectuses promising colossal returns. Woods, an American who says he is a native of Sacramento, Cal., was today found guilty of swindling the French through the selling of shares in California mining companies, and sentenced to two years in prison and a fine of $500.

Neighbors Victimized.

SACRAMENTO, May 7.—Charles Woods was formerly a resident of Sacramento county, and his home still stands on the Gammon ranch, six miles from Courtland. Years ago he constructed three large granaries down the river, borrowing many thousands of dollars to complete the work. Relations with neighbors and prominent residents of Sacramento were strained by his investing in the scheme, and he was forced to drop small fortunes in the suit brought by creditors. Woods, Gammon left Sacramento after these financial troubles, and the Eastern States and thence to Europe.

BOOK-KEEPER CONFESSES.

Method by Which He Has Stolen $5000 from Merchants' Laclede Bank.

ST. LOUIS, May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Charles G. Swafford, book-keeper for the Merchants' Laclede bank, today waived preliminary hearing on a warrant, charging him with embezzlement of $5000 from the bank, and was held to the grand jury. Swafford, according to the bank's officials, had been taking $500 from the bank by drawing his checks on the Merchants' Laclede bank, signing fictitious names and giving the payee's name as common on the Merchants' Laclede bank. He had charge of that portion of the bank's list, he insisted, and he had his own name, deposited them in trust companies in his own name, and when they returned to the bank he was drawing on the amounts stolen by padding his list. The paybook of W. A. McClellan, book-keeper at Maplewood, Mo., a suburb, where Swafford resided, showed an irregularity, which Swafford confessed.

CAR KILLED CHILDREN.

DRIVER HAUNTED.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Thomas Lawrence, driver of a Delaware-street car which killed an 11-year-old boy and a 3-year-old girl Wednesday, was taken to the police last night. The faces of the dead children haunted him so that he had had no peace of mind. He declared that he could hear the voices of the two children calling to him to surrender, and that he could see their faces.

WOMAN TWICE ATTACKED.

MYSTERY IN MOTIVE.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Two extraordinary attacks upon Mrs. Tim Wilson, who resides near Frazer, are reported by Sheriff Walker. Wilson was in from Orofino yesterday, and was attacked during Wilson's absence and beat his wife into insensibility in which condition she was found. The thing paid a second visit to Wilson's home and left Mrs.

Wilson suspended by a rope looped around his neck. From which precarious situation she was rescued by her husband.

No cause for these attacks is known to exist. There has been considerable excitement in the neighborhood over the affair.

MURDERER HANGED.

SHOT SWEETHEART.

BOISE (Idaho) May 7.—Fred Seward was hanged today at the Idaho penitentiary for the murder of Clara O'Neal at Moscow, Idaho, in October, 1908. Seward met death bravely.

"Do a good job, boys," he said to the executioners just before the cap was pulled over his head. His neck was broken by the fall.

Angered because Clara O'Neal, with whom he was infatuated, would not accept his counsel to reform her life, Seward went to her apartment and, holding her with one hand by the neck, shot her dead. He then made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide. He was convicted and sentenced to death, but was twice reprieved.

SOLDIER KILLS HIMSELF.

En Route to Old Home from San Diego Commits Suicide on Train.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. LAMAR (Colo.) May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) William Cook, aged 59, a United States soldier on leave of absence from San Diego, Cal., shot and fatally wounded himself in the toilet room of the east-bound Santa Fe passenger No. 2, five miles west of Lamar last night.

Cook was brought to Lamar, where he was placed in the sanatorium. He died at 8 o'clock this morning without having regained consciousness.

Cook was ill with consumption and evidently dependent upon his wife for recovery. He had but little money and no letters or papers were found on his body. He was en route to his former home at Columbus, O.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

OLD QUARREL.

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 7.—John Cicoria, one of the wealthiest and most influential Italian citizens of Seattle, was shot in the back this afternoon by Joe Mascera, a fellow-countryman, as he was walking along the crowded sidewalk on Second avenue, near James street.

The wounded man is at the City Hospital, hovering between life and death. When captured by a policeman, Mascera, turning to the officers said: "Cicoria was a brigand."

The shooting, Mascera later told the police, was the outcome of a quarrel of more than a year's standing. Mascera is the proprietor of a small lake shop.

FRATRICIDE AT SEATTLE.

QUARREL OF PARTNERS.

SEATTLE, May 7.—Jean Fortier, aged 29, shot and killed his brother, M. Fortier, aged 44, in front of their store at Green Lake, in the northern part of Seattle, at noon, and subsequently shot and wounded his brother's wife.

The brothers, who conducted a general merchandise store, were heard quarreling in the store over business matters. There was a shot. The elder Fortier ran, wounded and fell in front of the store.

Jean followed, pistol in hand, and fired three bullets into his prostrate brother's back. The murderer then ran to the Fortier Bros' logging camp, three miles distant, and shot and fatally wounded his dead brother's wife. He then escaped to the woods.

CRIME BRIBES.

Teamsters in Quarrel.

PORTLAND (Or.) May 7.—Con Enright and William M. Iverson, teamsters, quarreled today over the harnessing of some horses and, in his anger, Enright shot and killed Iverson. The latter is seriously but not fatally wounded. Enright escaped.

Annihilates Family.

EVERETT (Wash.) May 7.—James A. Dawson, night watchman for a mill company at Three Lakes, a small town near Everett, shot and killed his wife and 14-year-old daughter, and then killed himself. The daughter lived long enough to run to a near-by house. It is supposed family trouble caused the shooting.

Fight for Woman, Both Will Die.

SALEM (Or.) May 7.—Information was received here this afternoon that William Herve and James Sullivan engaged in a pistol duel at noon today, at Gates, on the Corvallis and Eastern Railroad, forty miles east of here. Herve was wounded in the neck and Sullivan in the abdomen. The quarrel which led up to the shooting was caused, it is alleged, by both paying attentions to the same woman.

PANIC IN THEATER.

Cry of "Fight" Mistaken for "Fire" at Cincinnati Show-house and Rush Is Made for Exits.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT. CINCINNATI, May 7.—Somebody yelled "fight" during a performance in Robinson's Opera-house, and the audience thought it was "fire."

STEAMER REPORTED LOST.

Crew and Passengers Believed to Have Gone Down With Ship in Lake Superior.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT. DULUTH (Minn.) May 7.—Advices received here tonight say the steamer Shores, six days overdue at Duluth, went down off White Fish Point, in Lake Superior, with all on board.

CHILEAN ADMIRAL COMING.

RIPPED SLEEVE SAVES OFFICER.

MEMBERS OF INFAMOUS GANG REGIST ARREST.

Revolver of One Prisoner Catches in Torn Lining of His Coat and Holds Long Enough to Enable Officer to Tear it from Suspected Burglar. Arrests Have Jail Records.

Patrolman Harlow spent yesterday congratulating himself that he is alive. He is also thankful that a prisoner he arrested about 3 o'clock in the morning was as careless as to neglect a tear in the lining of his right sleeve, which prevented him from slipping a revolver into his hand when the officer made the arrest.

Incidentally Harlow is congratulating himself on the caliber of his prisoner and his police detective claim are the highwaymen who have systematically and profitably robbed passengers for several months. The men under arrest were Pat Powers, said to be a member of the notorious Powers gang, and John Fenner, who has been a companion of Powers since childhood and been coupled with him in many escapades. Both the men have jail records.

Harlow was attracted to Powers and Fenner about 3 o'clock in the morning at a late hour of the night. They were in the line of the right sleeve, which prevented him from slipping a revolver into his hand when the officer made the arrest.

Harlow and Childers approached the two quickly. Harlow in the lead. Powers was sitting down and he was unfastening something in his right sleeve. Seeing the movement Childers grabbed the man's arm tightly pinning it to the sleeve. A 38 caliber revolver. As he tore the gun away he took with it a part of the lining, in which the gun had become entangled. Further search disclosed a "Jimmy" in his prisoner's coat pocket. A revolver was also taken from Fenner. About $70, a watch and other articles of jewelry were taken from the two.

Robberies which the detectives claim they have traced to Powers and Fenner are as follows: Home of Y. Ishimizu at No. 298 North Alameda street entered at 4:30 a.m. on May 1, by two men; Ishimizu was compelled to get out of bed, open his safe, and give up $200.

S. Tamura of No. 769 Gibbons street, routed out of bed at 1 o'clock on April 26, and compelled to give over $40 in cash, a gold chain and locket, and a diamond ring.

M. Okura of No. 365 Angila street visited at 2 a.m. on April 7 and compelled to disgorge $207.

J. and H. T. Komal of No. 112 Rose street surprised in their home at 4 a.m. on January 17, and relieved of $25 in money and two gold watches. Powers and Fenner have long been known to the police, and have been inmates of Whittier. They are about 22 years of age. Other members of the old Powers gang have left the city.

STARVING BOY FROM MESSINA.

PARIS, May 7.—The police tonight found a ragged, starving Italian boy on a bench in the Boulevard. Through an interpreter he said all through his friends had perished in the earthquake at Messina and that he had made his way off to Paris in the hope of earning his living.

LITTLE BABY HORRIBLY BURNED

By Boiling Grease—Skin All Car off One Side of Face and Head. Tried an Ointment which Made All Faster—Woe Sufferer Seem Disfigured for Life.

CURED WITHOUT A MARK BY CUTICUR

"About a year and eight months a new baby, aged ten months, was sitting on the mat beside the fender and we were preparing the breakfast when the fire went all over one side of the baby's face and head. One of the family ran and wiped the acid with a towel as you may think what a mass she made. The entire skin off. We took her to a chemist who told us to get a doctor which we did. He tended her a week and gave me some stuff like lard to put on. But it all rotted and I thought the baby was disfigured for life. I woman close beside me told me to try Cuticura Ointment. I used about three tins in about five weeks it was better as there wasn't a mark to tell where it had been. People used to say 'if that was the baby that was soiled and they would hardly believe me when I told them she was once so bad.' Her skin is just like velvet and have never been without Cuticura since. Cuticura cured three other children's ringworms besides, so I have good reason to thank it for what it has done. Mr. Hare, 1. Henry South Shields, Durham, England, March 22, 1908."

THE EVOLUTION OF "BUNGALOW LAND"

In 4 far off Eastern clime
Where a torrid sun burns down,
And leads to the tropic zone,
Every low-thatched native town,
And the jungle beasts its still
While the tropic sunbake flows,
"There you will find the home
Of the native bungalow."
But far from the tropic heat,
And its tangled mass of green,
A happier clime is found,
Where the ocean rolls between,
Tis a beautiful garden spot
Where the far-famed roses grow
And the spicy woodlands dot
The land of the bungalow.
The holy and the laud
Grace the mountain side and vale,
And here the perfumes linger
And the waters never fail.
With a faint autumnal glow,
Reverberating with its light,
The land of the bungalow.
Four Aldermen out of the five voted against the appropriation, despite protests of the military men that their action was against imperial ethics and that the Vancouver should cultivate trade relations with Japan.

NOT DRUGS

Food Dtd It.

After using laxative and cathartic medicines from childhood, a case of chronic and apparently incurable constipation yielded to the scientific food, Grape-Nuts, in a few days. "From early childhood I suffered with such terrible constipation that I had to use laxative continuously, giving from one drug to another and suffering more or less all the time. A prominent physician whom I consulted told me the muscles of the digestive organs were partially paralyzed and could not perform their work without help of some kind, so I have tried at different times about every laxative and cathartic known, but found no help that was at all permanent. I had finally become discouraged, and had given my case up as hopeless when I began to use the pre-digested food, Grape-Nuts. "Although I had not expected this food to help my trouble, to my great surprise Grape-Nuts digested immediately from the first, and in a few days I was convinced that this was just what my system needed. "The best performed their functions regularly, and I am now completely and permanently cured of this awful trouble. "Truly the power of scientific food must be unlimited." There's a Reason.

HEADGEAR THOUGHT TO BE

UNDER SECRET BAN.

Fashionable Women Complain to the Police About Assaults Made in Cars and Elsewhere on Their Bonnet Apparels—City Prosecutor Says Assaults Will Follow.

At the request of City Prosecutor Ed. J. Connelley, the police were instructed to look for numbers of women said to have formed a secret society for the promotion of the big hat. The result of a dozen or more complaints made upon their headgear is a search for a Hollywood car yesterday morning between a society of members of the secret society resulting in the offending party being seized from the car.

Later the woman who had been assaulted called up Attorney Eddie Connelley and registered a complaint. She refused to give the name of the woman who had been assaulted, but she would consult her husband regarding the filing of a complaint.

Women who wear big hats are the target of attack. The finer the hat the more violent the assault upon it. In recent instances costly millinery creations have been torn from the heads of the owners and trampled under foot. The women who wear these hats are always well dressed and apparently women of refinement and wealth. Their small hats and seem to hold no secret for the big straws and the hats of other women.

There is evidently some society working among Los Angeles women of putting an end to the "big hat," said Attorney Eddie Connelley. "We have had numerous complaints and the police are going to keep a watch for the next assault and will follow. The first complaint was made several days ago. A woman came in over the telephone this afternoon from a woman who said she had been assaulted on the way to Los Angeles. A rather small woman with a small hat and a large straw hat behind her, while the woman looked forward and struck the big hat a blow. She was followed by another and until the assault came in the afternoon.

The hat was knocked down over the woman's head. The owner thinking she was dealing with a crazy woman, she changed her seat. The other woman also changed her seat. A second assault was made upon the big hat. The conductor interfered and told the offending woman that he would have her arrested and that she must never again be a passenger. He ejected her from the car. Later he stated that she and other women make practice of doing this hat whenever they see a passenger.

There have been numerous other complaints from various parts of the city. The police are now looking for the women who have taken up a crusade against the big hats, now so stylish, in a most unbecoming manner. We will put a stop to it as soon as we can cause the arrest of the offenders."

CARBOLIC ACID KILLS.

Woman Takes It Instead of a Throat Remedy and Death Follows in Short Time.

Mistaking a bottle of carbolic acid for one of medicine which she had been taking for an affliction of the throat, Mrs. Beattie Muckle of No. 308 East Third street last night swallowed a quantity of the poison. She died an hour later, despite every effort of two physicians to save her life.

Realizing her mistake when the fiery acid burned her mouth and throat, Mrs. Muckle shrieked to her brother, Edward Coyle, and her two children, who were in an adjoining room. When the family reached her bedroom, Mrs. Muckle was lying on her back, suffering intense agony. The partially-emptied bottle of poison was lying on the floor where Mrs. Muckle had dropped the phial.

Dr. J. Harvey Hall of No. 2511 Central avenue and Dr. M. D. Carter of No. 2711 Central avenue were immediately summoned, and though Mr. Coyle gave heroic emergency treatment before the arrival of the physicians, she lived only a few minutes after the doctors arrived.

To the coroner Mr. Coyle explained that his sister has been ailing with throat trouble. Last evening she retired early. Presumably about 10 o'clock she reached into the medicine cabinet for the throat remedy and in the dimly lighted room her fingers clasped the carbolic acid bottle. Before she realized she had swallowed the deadly poison.

Mrs. Muckle was a widow. Besides her brother she leaves two children, James, aged 16 years, and Sophia, aged 18. No arrangements have been made for the funeral. The coroner will make an investigation today and will probably sign a death certificate.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY.

SMALL FARMERS

DROWNED OUT.

KERN RIVER FLOODING OVER THE JERRY SLOUGH.

Ranchers and Their Families Are Forced to Abandon Their Homes and Crops Are Ruined—Stream Turned from Its Natural Course Because Buena Vista Lake Is Full.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

BAKERSFIELD, May 7.—Kern River, which has been turned from its natural course into the Buena Vista Lake because the latter is at the high-water mark, and threatens to break its levees again, is flooding over the Jerry Slough on its way toward Buena Vista Lake, and is drowning out scores of small farmers in the Goose Lake country.

The slough, which is owned by Miller and Lux, is only planned to hold 2000 feet of water, but the river is now flowing 7500 feet. The best feed and grain crops of many years are being ruined, and all the ranchers and their families are being forced to abandon their homes. The damage will total many thousands of dollars.

FEWER MEN.

LABOR SCARCE.

WAGES HIGHER.

CONDITION DUE TO DEPARTURE OF MANY JAPANESE.

Two Thousand Have Left Fresno District Alone and Men to Do the Work in Fields Are Not Easy to Secure in Number Sufficient to Meet Needs.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

FRESNO, May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Recent improvement operations in this county have developed the fact that there are less laborers in this section of the State now than formerly, and that men to do work in the fields are not easy to secure in numbers sufficient to meet needs.

That this condition is more or less felt all over California is due to the fact that many Japanese laborers are now leaving the State, was a statement made yesterday by a Japanese connected with Kamikawa Bros., one of the largest concerns for furnishing Japanese labor in the San Joaquin Valley.

It is calculated that 4000 Japanese laborers were in the vicinity of Fresno at this time last year. This season, it is believed, according to the labor contractor, the number is not more than half that amount.

As a result of the scarcity of field labor, wages have gone up. The daily wage last season at this time was about $1.25 per day, on the average; this season it is probably 10 to 20 cents higher.

APPEAL WITHOUT MERIT.

The Fresno County Court is sustained in a decision handed down today by the Appellate Court, involving the right to irrigation waters. Frank Shon won a suit in the Fresno court against C. H. Hawn to prevent him from obstructing the flow of water in a ditch, which led onto the plaintiff's land. The Appellate Court declares the defendant's appeal to be without merit.

GOV.-GEN. SMITH SAILS.

MANILA, May 7.—Gov.-Gen. James Smith of the Philippines, who has been given an indefinite leave of absence, and who probably will not return to the islands, sailed today on the Nikko Maru to Kobe, whence he goes by rail to Yokohama. There he will take passage on the steamer Minatogawa for America. There was a special series of special affairs in his honor. Filipinos, Americans and foreigners all joining in the demonstrations.

NO WORD OF MISSING SHIP.

MARINETTE (Wis.) May 7.—Nothing is known of the loss of the steamer Shores at Manitowish. The steamer Gettysburg reports having run through drifting wreckage last night near Sable Point. This wreckage consisted of a pilot house, yawl boat, skylight and cabin. There is no question that some steamer has been lost between Manitowish and White Fish Point.

SWIMMER WINS RICH WIDOW.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, April 25.—The engagement of Mrs. F. G. Wagner, a wealthy young widow, to Charles M. Daniels, the world's champion swimmer, has been announced. Mrs. Wagner came into possession of a large fortune on the death of her husband, and also came in for a large share of the estate left by her father, who was president of the Buffalo & Susquehanna Railroad Company. She is one of the most beautiful women living at the Plaza Hotel.

Mr. Daniels, who for the last ten years has spent much of his time breaking the swimming records held by himself and other amateur swimmers, returned recently from Chicago, where in the Illinois Athletic Club races he won the National A. C. championship for one hundred yards by swimming the distance in 56.4 seconds.

He defeated all the swimmers who were entered against him in the Olympic games in London last year. In Athens he carried off most of the swimming honors in the Olympic games in 1906. He is the greatest swimmer in the world at all distances from twenty-five yards to half a mile, and as a sprint swimmer is said never to have had an equal.

CRIPPLE FAILS IN ABDUCTION PLOT.

KANSAS BOY CAUGHT BY DECOY PLACED BY BANKER.

Fourteen-Year-Old Lad Goes to Reformatory for Writing Threatening Letters Containing Demand for Money—Kidnaping of Daughter Penalty for Not Complying.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WAMEGO (Kan.) May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Outlaw novels, stories of the White abduction case and accounts of Black Hand atrocities put Willie Ashman, a fourteen-year-old crippled boy, in the reformatory today, when sentence was passed on him in West-land for writing blackmailing letters to L. B. Leach, president of the Wamego State Bank. Ashman was charged to remain in the reformatory until he shall have reached the year of majority.

April 29 Leach received a letter in a scrawly hand demanding that $100 be placed at a described spot in front of his bank. The letter threatened that unless this was done the banker's ten-year-old daughter would be kidnapped and tortured to death. The first letter was unheeded. A second was sent a few days later, repeating the threats and adding that unless the money was left Wednesday night, May 5, the girl would be stolen and the banker himself killed.

Leach prepared a decoy package which was deposited in front of the bank at the hour mentioned in the letter. Stationing himself inside the bank, shortly a figure appeared and stooped to pick up the package. Leach fired and the blackmailer dropped the package and ran. Leach followed, shouting several times, but failing to hit. He recognized the crippled boy, however, and caused young Ashman's arrest.

Measure Cobs by any rule—you'll say best.

Measure them by the foot rule and a package of nine will be 36 inches long. Measure them by the rule of common sense, and you'll find that buying a cigar that's all tobacco and no label, or fancy shaping, is good enough for any man. Measure them by the rule of economy and you'll make your cigar money go ten times as far or get ten times more satisfaction out of it than you're used to.

Cobs are new kind of Havana cigars—made in the roughest way possible. But the economy has been kept in the manufacture and all the expense has been left in the quality.

Four inches long, open at both ends. Free smokers—fragrant, smooth, satisfying. Mild as a rose, delicious. Never bitter, never bettered. A package of nine (at the price of one cigar that's as good)—15 cents.

The Useful Reindeer.
 There are now 25,000 reindeer in Alaska being used as beasts of burden, and so successful has this effort to make use of the reindeer, been that the subject of utilizing the caribou of Canada in the same way has been taken up by the Canadian officials.
 The animals are much alike in their characteristics, and it is claimed that the caribou now roaming over the Yukon territory could be easily domesticated and made a valuable asset in the development of the country. It will be necessary to inaugurate a regular series of experiments in the direction of the domestication of the animal, for no practical studies in this connection have been taken at this time, but those who are urging the innovation say that there are no difficulties in the way and in a few generations the caribou could be made as valuable in Canada as the reindeer have been found in the United States.—[Exchange.]

Habits of Birds.
 The thrush catches such worms as rashly show themselves above ground; but an ancient anecdote of the species found that, if it followed them into marshy lands, it could probe the soft ground and drag them out of their chambers. For this operation it has now a bill three inches long, straight, thin and sensitive at the tip, a beautiful instrument for its purpose except extracting worms from soft ground. If frost or drought hardens the ground, the snipe must starve or travel.—[Strand Magazine.]

HOSIERY AND THE TARIFF.

The contention between American women who wear imported hosiery and their sisters who make American goods of the same class is not yet at an end. Indeed, there seem to be two sides to this story.

Importations of foreign goods are not so large in these current months as in flusher times, and the importation of luxuries shows the most decided falling off.

How is it with the importation of hosiery? For three months, January 1 to March 31, there were imported, mostly from Germany, 12,874,254 pairs of stockings. The American women who make American hosiery point to the impressive fact that during these same three months many American mills were running part time and some of them not running at all. The women who earn a living in these American mills with reduced hours, or no hours at all, of employment, received less wages than when the mills were on full time, or no wages at all.

These contented that it would have been a great advantage to them if they had been employed in making the 13,000,000 pairs of stockings imported, mostly from Germany. They contend that it would be better for all Americans as well as themselves if that money had been paid to them and kept in the country instead of sent abroad to pay hands in foreign mills and never to return to the United States.

The women of ample means or great wealth who were clamoring for lower duties on foreign-made hosiery are begged to consider if 4,000,000 pairs of stockings a month is not a large number to bring into the country while some of our own people are idle.

There is the bone of contention. Shall the well-to-do women be saved, perhaps, 5 cents a pair on their hosiery, and shall we send 20 cents a pair for 4,000,000 pairs of stockings out of the country a month? Or shall we raise the cost of foreign hosiery even higher than at present in order to shut out some of this large importation instead of increasing it, thereby giving our own people a chance to earn a living and keeping the money here at home to be turned over daily, weekly, monthly to wage-earners, adding to the motive power of all our industries?

UNFAIR TO THE BENEVOLENT.

Those who may have the responsibility of conducting money-raising campaigns for the benefit of philanthropic institutions and causes should beware of the foxes, male and female, who always jump in with the old percentage proposition, seeking whom and what they may devour. This species of grafter is always hot on the scent and never misses an opportunity to lard his insides at the expense of the benevolently disposed.

He or she usually proposes to float some sort of entertainment and to divide the receipts with the charitable cause, whatever it may be. The grafter offers to give the institution before the public, say, 40 or 50 or 60 per cent, or perhaps less, of the receipts, and takes the rest. He or she always has sufficient wit to frame a contract in such a way as to get the lion's share of the profits.

Now, in its essence this is simply a game to capitalize the popularity of a charitable cause for private gain; it is making an asset, in a personal business speculation, out of the good will of the public for some worthy object. Without the name and prestige of the institution involved the scheme could not work. The grafter takes advantage of the lack of experience in dealing with shysters, on the part of the good men and women managing the philanthropic campaign, to get a rake-off to himself.

The times has always maintained and still insists that this sort of thing is unfair to a generous public. It is not right to ask people who purport to be opened again and again, who give their hundreds and their thousands to the cause, or their mites if no more, to contribute to the snap-trap of a grafter who is operating under false pretenses, by giving the operator 40 or 50 or 60 cents out of every dollar contributed to the cause. It is not right to license speculators to make rich percentages in the guise of a solicitation in one form or another for charity.

The times once more calls attention to this evil and begs the ladies and gentlemen who so unselfishly give their time and energy to these philanthropic campaigns to turn down all propositions to raise funds for the widow or the orphan or the sick and the needy on a percentage basis. Let all the money contributed by a free-hearted public go to the orphans and widows and needy and sick—where the public supposes it is going—and not a dollar to the percentage sharper.

CEREAL CROPS AND MARKETS.

It is about time for Ida Tarbell, Tom Lawson and other sensation-mongers, who if in the baseball business would be discarded for playing to the gallery, to break out into a new tirade because wheat is advancing again in price.

Of course students of markets keep their eyes on the weather reports emanating from Washington and forget Jim Patten, leaving that redoubtable plunger to attend to his own business.

If Plunger Jim is responsible for these ups and downs, especially the ups, in the wheat market, how is it about corn, oats and barley, which all climb the price ladder, if not side by side, right on the heels of wheat? How is it, too, if Jim, simply by his machinations, has raised the wheat market in Chicago for speculative deliveries, that spot wheat not only there, but in Kansas, Minnesota, and San Francisco, is booming, and in Liverpool, Paris and Berlin?

A letter from Washington gives much information of great value touching the cereal crops of the United States. From this report, prepared from government statistics, it appears that in twenty-five years the wheat crop of the United States has increased about 40 per cent, from an average of 465,000,000 bushels per year for the term 1880 to 1884 to an average of about 654,000,000 bushels for the term 1904 to 1908.

During the same period the corn crop increased about 67 per cent, from an average of 1,600,000,000 for the first term to about 2,670,000,000 for the second term, as compared above. Compared with wheat there was an increase of more than 1,000,000,000 bushels of corn a year against 186,000,000 bushels of wheat. In fact, the increase in the American corn crop in twenty-five years almost equals the increase in the wheat crops of the entire world.

These government statistics show that the world demand for wheat increases steadily. The consumption per capita is increasing. The food faddists insist that bread should cease to be called the staff of life, and be denominated the club of death. In spite of this the world goes on eating wheat flour in constantly increasing quantities and wheat becomes more and more important among food substances. It seems that the consumption of corn by human beings takes the opposite course.

The wheat of the world goes almost entirely for human food, after seed is saved for the next crop. On the contrary, corn undergoes a secondary process, being very largely transformed into animal product. A bushel of wheat has a fixed value as food for human beings, but corn has a value based mostly upon its use as food for lower animals. The most profitable use to which wheat can be put is to make bread, but corn is much increased in value by being converted into horse flesh, beef or pork. There is an added increment to the value of corn by feeding it to cows, that transform the grain into milk, butter and cheese.

It is exactly the same with oats and barley as

with corn. These cereals differ from wheat, too, in having secondary uses which materially increase their value. So as the production of corn has increased greatly, the barley crop has multiplied fourfold in thirty years. The oat crop has doubled. Millers figure that a barrel of flour represents about 4 1/2 bushels of wheat. According to the last census, the average price of wheat in 1905 was 92 cents a bushel. At that rate the raw material required to make a barrel of flour would cost $4.37. The average price of flour at the same time was $4.62 a barrel. In that year 7685 mills consumed wheat worth $456,306,503 and sold the flour for a total of $480,258,514.

An analysis made from these statistics shows that the pioneer farmer who goes into new countries usually produces wheat on the cheap land because it is convertible into cash almost at once, after being harvested. But as the line of settlement advances into newer territory, those in the older agricultural districts sow less wheat and plant more corn because there is a greater demand for horses, cattle and hogs as population thickens. More money is made out of the corn crop by converting it into animal product than out of the wheat crop, which must go almost entirely as food for human beings. The result is that during the past generation the corn crop has increased by something more than 1,000,000,000 bushels a year, while the increase in the wheat crop has been considerably under 200,000,000 bushels a year.

THE MATERIAL VALUE OF ART.

A consular report from Dresden, published by the government, speaks of a broad movement in Saxony for the preservation of everything that is beautiful in nature and art in that old country. Saxony, as well as all other parts of Germany, is undergoing a great deal of transformation. There is a revived spirit of enterprise in the Germanic empire, and that spirit, material and commercial as it is, tends to lower the sense of beauty, whether artistic or natural.

The idea has taken firm hold of the people in Germany that this material ambition tends to overlook itself, that the new spirit is working somewhat like a Bushman's boomerang. It is very well, perhaps, to tear down monuments of ancient time and to transform scenery into wheat fields or sites for factories. Whatever advantage is gained by such transformation is measured by the dollars and cents. But there is another side to this operation, and until the ledger account is made up the profit of such changes cannot appear.

The organization which has taken up this movement for the preservation of natural scenery and ancient buildings in Saxony argues that the destruction of these beauty spots provided by nature and the curiously beautiful buildings erected by the ancestors of the present generation, which have a distinctive commercial value, may cause more loss to the people of the country than is gained by the "march of modern civilization."

The Saxons have been notably artistic in past generations and the country contains a great many spots very attractive because of their natural beauty. The country is densely populated and the growth of manufacturing enterprises is calling for the creation of new towns and the conversion of old ones into cities. The rural population, following the tendency of modern days everywhere, is flocking and concentrating in the towns and cities. The new spirit of utilitarianism is laying out streets at right angles, and building not only factories rectangular in shape and plain in structure, but homes for operatives constructed in the same simple and inartistic manner. The spirit gains headway as it goes, and all sense of beauty in architecture seems to be dying away. The purpose of the artistic organization is to put a check to this movement, especially in preventing the conversion of old-fashioned villages, with their one long rambling, winding street, which follows the natural contour of the landscape for the most part, into the straight and formal highway of the modern city.

The society which has undertaken this work has met with the cordial support of the Saxon government, which has granted a yearly appropriation to provide headquarters and to pay qualified architects for opinions and plans. Some recent legislation has been passed in Saxony in accordance with the desires and plans of this society.

Another enterprise in this connection is the cataloging, with illustrations and descriptive letterpress, of the various attractions, artistic and natural, in the different parts of the country. These publications furnish a sort of itinerary, telling where the rarities in old buildings and the attractiveness in natural scenery may be found.

There is an important suggestion in this to us in Southern California. Saxony and all countries in Europe have learned from experience that natural scenery of great beauty or grandeur and relics of the past in architecture and other artistic achieve-

WHAT A WORLD!

The Lament of a Pessimist.

If you dress well, you are vain and extravagant, and if you do not—you are a frump.

If you speak well of yourself or your work, you are conceited and egotistical; and if you do not—you are a nonentity.

If you punish your children, you are cruel and tyrannical; and if you do not—you are a nuisance, if not a bandit.

If men admire you, you must be forward, bold; and if they do not—you are a "back number."

If you give Christmas presents, you are a miser; and if you do not—you are a "scrooge."

If you smile, you are flippant and frivolous; and if you do not—you are cold, unemotional and disagreeable.

If you marry a rich man, you are a schemer; and if you marry a poor man—you are an imbecile, or, it was your only chance!

If you succeed, you have a "pull"; and if you do not—you have no ability.

If you are rich, your money is tainted; and if you are not—YOU are.

If you fall in love, you are soft and silly; and if you do not—you are cold, unemotional and phlegmatic.

If you conform to the conventions of the world, you are unoriginal and ordinary; and if you do not—you are bizarre, or shocking.

If you live high, you will have gout; and if you do not—you will have "improvised blood."

If you are quiet and dignified, you are lachrymated; and if you are not—you are a crude.

If you refuse to marry a man, he never gives you; and if you do marry him—he never feels the same.

British industrial interests suffered severely last year because of the financial depression. Figures compiled by the London Economist show that the net profits of 254 (mostly manufacturing) companies decreased 12 per cent, as compared with 1907—from $82,500,000 to $72,500,000. The average profit per company fell $41,000. Industries that suffered most were iron, steel, coal, the first two because of depression in building.

NEW HITS AT INDICTMENTS.

Broadhead-Schenck Defense Resumes Onslaught.

May Win If Can Show the Grand Jury Prejudiced.

Squabble Over Technicalities Will End Soon.

It developed yesterday that there is a possibility the indictments of Thomas H. Broadhead, former Chief of Police, and Sam Schenck, former Police Commissioner, may be set aside on the ground of prejudice in the minds of the members of the special grand jury by which the indictments were returned.

If this bias can be established the two defendants may gain their freedom without submitting to a trial.

So far as the court proceedings went, however, there is as yet no indication that the indictments will be set aside. Such action, if it comes at all, will be in the future, after the defense establishes a case.

Yesterday's proceedings in the court of Judge Davis were similar to those of the day before, in which objections and exceptions formed the principal part, not by any means to say diversion, for they were monotonous in the extreme.

As on the day before, the defense sought to establish the fact that prejudice existed against Broadhead and Schenck, and that the names of material witnesses did not appear on the indictments of the two men accused of bribery in connection with the operation of the red-light district under the recent municipal administration.

LITTLE PROGRESS. At every turn objections were interposed by one side or the other, and apparently no progress had been made when adjournment was taken at 5 o'clock in the evening until 10 o'clock this morning.

It is stated by lawyers that, if twelve or more of the grand jurors can be shown to have been prejudiced against the two defendants at the bar, prior to the impeachment of the jury, sufficient grounds will have been established to warrant the court in granting the motion of the lawyers for the defense to set aside the indictments.

D. E. Wellcome, secretary of the late grand jury, was on the stand most of the day. He appeared to be there principally for show, as he was permitted to answer only a few of the questions put to him by Attorneys Appel and Paul Schenck, representing the defendants.

After Wellcome had been turned out of the question mill, Dist. Atty. Fredericks was put on the witness stand. He was about as communicative as an octopus being interviewed on the prospects of an increase in the price of his commodity for the summer.

About all the time defense gained from the long day of questioning was a string of objections that will clutter up the record and possibly delay the decision of Judge Davis on the motion to set aside the indictments.

Wellcome, who had been on the stand the previous day, was examined at length—at least he was the target for a volley of questions fired by Attorneys Schenck and Appel. Almost the entire morning was consumed in an effort on the part of the defense to force him to testify that E. T. Earl had been examined as to the subject matter of the indictments of Broadhead and Schenck.

THIS FATAL THEY SAY. The name of Earl does not appear in the list of witnesses on the indictments in question, and the defense contends that this is a fatal omission.

On the contrary, the prosecution insists that Earl was not a material witness against Broadhead and Schenck.

Could it be shown that the names of material witnesses had been omitted from the indictments, the defense, under the law, might have grounds for causing the indictments to be set aside.

Wellcome admitted that Earl testified before the grand jury, but he said he did not think the testimony of that witness was consumed in an effort for the Broadhead and Schenck indictments.

Dist. Atty. Fredericks maintained that the grand jury alone was competent to judge as to the materiality of Earl's testimony. If it had deemed Earl testimony material in connection with the indictments of Broadhead and Schenck, it would have informed his name as a witness on the indictments.

"You said," remarked Attorney Appel, representing Broadhead, "that you did not commence the Broadhead investigation until after Oswald had testified. What were you investigating when you began your deliberations?"

Before Wellcome could answer he was headed off by an objection on the part of the prosecution.

Later Wellcome said he did not think Earl was examined with reference to the Broadhead indictment.

OBJECTIONS MANY. In the afternoon the defense resumed its effort to bring in the Earl testimony, as a basis for setting aside the indictment. At every turn there was an objection on the part of the defense.

It also was sought to bring in the testimony of Walter F. Parker, Tom Savage and others, but Wellcome asserted that he was unable to recall the testimony of these witnesses, or the order in which it was given.

Then, Attorney Schenck, acting for his brother, the former Police Commissioner, attempted to show that the proper indictments were not made on the San Schenck indictment when it was returned to the court. Wellcome didn't remember the circumstances of the returning of the indictment. He said the District Attorney made some interjections on the indictment, but his recollection was that they were made before the grand jury left its room.

Attorney Schenck then took a different tack, with a view to breaking down the indictment. He asked if it was a fact that several deputies of the District Attorney were not in the grand jury room during the investigation of the Broadhead and Schenck cases. It was admitted by the witnesses that some of the deputies were in the room all the time.

The apparent purpose of the defense in this line of questioning was to show that the indictments were invalid because of the presence of persons not entitled to presence in the grand jury room.

PETER'S INTOXICATION. Attorney Appel enlarged upon the fact that William Lawrence Fetter, one of the witnesses before the grand jury, was in a state of "heavily in-

HEIR TO THE RUSSIAN THRONE ALREADY QUITE AN AUTOCRAT.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

S. T. PETERSBURG, April 14.—His Imperial Highness the Grand Duke Alexis Nikolaievitch, only son of the czar, and heir to the throne of Russia, is known in the nursery as Alyosha. And Alyosha is already an autocrat of the nursery showing unmistakable signs that he will be as imperious and commanding when he grows up as his father is weak and vacillating.

A few days ago the czar sent one of his bed and come and play until his Imperial Highness the lord heir apparent, signified that they might stop by dropping off to sleep.

The czar and his wife were delighted at this little incident, which they considered showed the firmness and will of little Alyosha. They were so pleased that the baby's obstinacy with which the child refused to wear a new military cap which had been given him. He suddenly took it off, threw it on the ground and declared roundly that he did not like it, would not wear it, and must have his old cap back.

"But look," said an attendant, pointing to one of the officers, "don't you see that that general has a cap like yours?"

"I don't care if he has," said the small Prince. "I'm not going to wear one." And he did not.

A lady of the court recently told me an amusing story about Alyosha's prayers. To the astonishment of the nurse he was told that the boy, devoted to his father, the czar, would pray every evening by shouting at the top of his voice: "Hurrah, God!"

The good woman told him that he ought not to do so.

"Why not?" he asked.

"Because one cannot say 'hurrah' to God," she answered.

"But when father goes out every body says 'hurrah,'" he argued. "God is much greater than father, why should one not also say 'hurrah' to Him?"

And the lady who told me the story remarked: "For a child of his age, he is a little autocrat."

I suppose most ordinary mortals know this; at the age of four, but perhaps when one's father is an autocrat and one is taught that time to come one will be able to order about 130,000,000 people it is more difficult to grasp.

Alyosha has been known to revile since he was four months old. He has said that the czar has exploited his baby. Soldiers can be stirred up to great enthusiasm at the sight of an infant who will some day be czar and the imperial family have made use of this fact. Last summer Alyosha was driven along the ranks of soldiers at a review, sitting at his mother's side. He bowed, his little curly head to them until he fell asleep from sheer weariness.

He already realizes the responsibility and the privileges of his exalted rank. The last time he came back to Peterhof after a cruise in the Gulf of Finland he refused point blank to be taken to the palace to see his mother and his sisters. The lord heir apparent, he evidently thought, must go in solitary state. Needless to say, his whim was honored and he was given a carriage to himself.

His first appearance at a great state occasion was at the wedding of Prince William of Sweden last May. He was not, however, allowed to walk in the procession of princes and royal personages through the state rooms of the great palace at Tsarskoe Selo. His three elder sisters, the Grand Duchesses Olga, Tatiana and Marie made a charming trio at their mother's side, but he and the tiny Grand Duchess Anastasia were taken to the chapel by their nurses.

When the Queen of England saw Alyosha for the first time she called him "Standart" at Royal she asked him if he always looked so grave.

He answered that he did not like his sisters. But the Queen, who is always adored by children, followed him and there was a grand game of hide and seek.

MARCH OF PROGRESS. SANTA FE IS A GROWING CITY.

Half-Million Dollars Being Spent in New Buildings, Historic Adobe Structures—Campaign of Improvement Resorted to by Railroad.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) SANTA FE (N. M.), May 5.—After a long and arduous journey, Santa Fe, the historic capital city of New Mexico, and numbered among the oldest cities in the Western Hemisphere, has awakened to its manifold opportunities.

Just recently an extraordinary and substantial improvement, and if it keeps up its present gait of advancement, will outstrip every other city in the territory. The antique adobe style of architecture is being supplanted by the modern, up-to-date kind. While it will take years to entirely wipe out the old adobe buildings, which three-fourths of the ancient city is comprised, yet present indications are that some day these will be rare instead of common.

There are now under construction buildings and residences, the cost of which will total upward of half a million dollars. Chief of these are the $500,000 extension to the handsome Territorial Capitol, the executive residence, which will cost $25,000 when complete; Elks' Theater, to cost $25,000; $25,000 Courthouse; $20,000 high school; $20,000 Catholic Indian School; $30,000 business block; $30,000 railway depot, and a number of private residences. The total cost of which will be in the neighborhood of $100,000. Among the improvements contemplated are a $200,000 Masonic Temple, to be built by the Scottish Rite Masons, for which plans are now being drawn, and a magnificent tourist hotel, to cost $150,000. The latter will fill a long-felt want and furnish ample accommodations for the many tourists who journey to the capital annually to view the interesting sights.

Santa Fe is at last coming into its own. While this city was for a long time neglected by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, which bears its name, being on a branch line of this railroad, persistent efforts on the part of the business men of this city have at last been successful. Every vestige of literature now contains something about Santa Fe, and its manifold attractions for the tourist and health-seeker.

PASADENA.

START WORK ON FREAK TOWER.

GROUND BROKEN ON WILSON PEAK FOR STRUCTURE.

Prominent Astronomers to Arrive Shortly—Two Women Die While Seated at Their Dinner Tables. Pioneer Resident Passes Away After Brief Illness.

Office of the Times, No. 24 E. Raymond Ave. PASADENA, May 7.—Ground was broken yesterday by a force of twenty men at Mt. Wilson for the construction of the tower telescope so long planned by the Carnegie Solar Observatory Company.

This is to be the largest structure of its kind in the world, will cost $50,000, and is to be rushed to completion in order that a delay of one year may be obviated.

The first step in the big undertaking will be the sinking of an 85-foot pit, 10 feet in diameter, through solid granite. This pit is in the center of the foundation for the tower, which is to be 75 feet long and 45 feet wide, and of concrete and steel throughout.

Prof. W. S. Adams, who is in charge of the observatory during the absence of Dr. George E. Hale, states that all the steel for the tower will be made in Chicago and shipped here by knuckle down and ready for setting up. As the total weight is more than 200 tons, the task of transporting it to this pinnacle of the Sierra Madre will be a small undertaking. Finishing touches are being put on the trail and the tonnage will be conveyed to the summit by motor trucks.

This tower, whose dome will be 175 feet above ground, will, in reality, be two towers—one inside of the other. This method of construction was deemed necessary by observations made in the smaller tower, similar in design, erected some time ago at Mt. Wilson. It was found that vibrations in heavy winds detracted from its success. By the use of the nested towers, the vibrations will be practically overcome. The two towers will be but three inches apart, and will not in any way be connected, save at the foundation.

The tower is to have a two-man elevator, operated by electricity from the pit to the dome.

A number of prominent astronomers are to arrive in Pasadena shortly, some to become permanently connected with this observatory and others for the purpose of research. Among them are Dr. C. A. Abbott, director of the astro-physical observatory of the Smithsonian Institution, who will arrive in two weeks. A week later E. P. Nichols, professor of physics at Columbia University, and known as a research associate of the Carnegie Institution, will come here for summer work.

A fellow-associate, Prof. J. C. Kesteven, director of astronomical research at Utrecht, Holland, will arrive July 1. Prof. P. H. Sears of the University of Missouri is to come here in August to take charge of the computing division of the Mt. Wilson Observatory.

SUDDEN DEATH FOR TWO. Two prominent women of this city died suddenly yesterday, and it is a coincidence that both were called while seated at the dinner table.

Mrs. Katherine E. Peabody, a Los Angeles school teacher, fell into the arms of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Peabody, at her home, No. 1881 North Main, as she arose from her dinner table. Death was almost instantaneous. She had been warned by physicians to give up her work, and had been in charge of Rev. Leslie M. Learned of All Saints Church, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence, Mrs. Martha S. Hainout, 2400 Broadway, and a daughter of Matthew Vaughn, an Irishman, who was prominent among forty-niners, died suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Howell, No. 550 North El Molino avenue. Rev. F. G. H. Stevens of the Lake-avenue Methodist Church, will conduct funeral services at the Turner-Stevens Company at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

DEATH OF MRS. CRUCKSHANK. Mrs. Henrietta Cruckshank, mother of F. George Cruckshank, of the firm of Porter, Sutton & Cruckshank, attorneys, died yesterday morning at her residence, No. 287 South El Molino avenue, after a brief illness. She was the widow of Alexander Cruckshank, with whom she came to Pasadena twenty-two years ago. She was a native of Scotland, and was a prominent pioneer resident of this city.

Mrs. Cruckshank was a member of the Presbyterian Church during her long residence here. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Malcolm J. McCord at the family residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CITY FARM NURSERY. Mayor Earley, accompanied by T. D. Allen and Prof. Ramsey, visited the city farm yesterday. It was decided to have the Alhambra Water Company run a pipe to the new four-acre tract and convert it into a nursery for seedling oranges and other fruit trees. The mayor said that the city farm is the most like to "always be Mayor, in order to nurse the farm and see it grow."

TO EXTEND PAVEMENT. Because the Highway Commission's unwillingness to make a paving contract from the city limits eastward to Fontana, an agitation was started yesterday to secure the extension of the city limits. It is proposed to asphalt the street.

REALTY SALES INCREASING. Transactions in real estate to the value of $25,000 were made public yesterday. These include the purchase of the old Overland Club site, at the corner of Colorado street and Los Robles by Durand, for $55,000; the purchase of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the southeast corner of Colorado street and Oakland avenue, for $40,000; the former site of Mr. Durand will erect a business block, to cost several hundred thousand dollars. It is probable that a theater will be a part of the plan.

E. H. Lockwood reports the purchase of Adolphus Busch of a thirty-eight-acre orange grove near Santa Ana, from Dr. Joseph Kurts of Los Angeles for $50,000.

MRS. CLAYPOOL'S RECEPTION. No more elaborate function has taken place in months than the reception yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. Newman Claypool, for her daughters, Mrs. Emma Claypool and Miss Agnes, who were accompanied by their husbands, James and Arthur Claypool, at their home, 3000 Grand avenue.

"Northern Capitalist" Brought Back to Long Beach from Arizona, Must Face Charge of Embezzlement and Possibly of Bigamy—Thousands of Fish Thrown Ashore by High Tides.

LONG BEACH, May 7.—William Holmes, arrested last night at Needles by a patrolman, was brought here today. Holmes is the "northern capitalist" who came to Long Beach two months ago and got options on rooming-houses and hotels. He also engaged Mrs. Nellie Messenger as housekeeper for one of the houses, but as evidence of her good faith, induced her to execute two notes, which she secured by mortgage on her property. She now alleges that Holmes converted this collateral income, and skipped out. Since leaving here, Holmes has divided his time between Needles and Parker. A woman who was here as his wife bought a ticket ten days ago for Needles, and gave the police a check for $100, which was cashed by Holmes and the woman went to Kingman, Ariz., says the detective, and was married, and the next day the Sheriff of San Bernardino county served papers in divorce proceedings on the Y. C. A. will listen to the case. Holmes who lives in Los Angeles, is that Holmes may have to face a charge of bigamy.

Holmes had not a cent when arrested, and his present wife says his only wardrobe consists of the clothes on his back. The prisoner still talks freely of his big property holdings all over the State, and says he was prevented from closing his deals here by illness.

Holmes was arrested by Justice Braxton this morning, and his examination set for the 14th inst., bond being fixed at $2000, which he was unable to give.

IN NEULIGEE GET FISH. High tides last night caught an immense school of jack smelt and stranded them on the beach at Seaside Park. The children were roused from their slumbers, and in various stages of undress sallied forth with buckets and pans to gather the harvest. The morning everybody had fish for breakfast, and telephones kept busy to friends up town to come down and get some fish.

CANNOT ACCEPT CALL. Rev. Jean Loba of Pasadena has notified the Plymouth congregation that he cannot accept the call extended to him because of the state of his health, which broke down four years ago in Indiana.

On Monday night committees of the patriotic societies here are planning for the proper observance of Memorial Day. Flowers will be strewn on the graves of the unknown dead, and the Wilmington and Long Beach cemeteries will be visited.

NEAR CENTENARIAN. Mrs. Harmony Woodward died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna Varney, No. 729 Pacific avenue. She was a native of Indiana, and 91 years of age. She lived all her life in Rockville, Ind., until a month ago, when she moved with her son's family to California. The remains will be taken back to Indiana for burial.

City died this morning at the hospital. He was a native of Kentucky, and 64 years old.

MONROVIA BANK CHANGE. New President Will Be Formally Appointed Today—Liquor Case to Come Up Tuesday.

MONROVIA, May 7.—C. H. Ainley, vice-president of the American National Bank, will be formally appointed president at a meeting of the board tomorrow. W. E. Scarborough, the former president, whose resignation went into effect May 1, will continue as a director. He resigned the office of head of the bank owing to his increasing business and social activities. His action was planned six months ago.

AGAINST CRONENWET. For the second time, proceedings have been instituted by the city against E. E. Cronenwet, proprietor of La Vista Grande Hotel for "maintaining a place where alcoholic beverages are sold, given away, separated or distributed." The case was called in Recorder Evans' court Tuesday morning. In the first trial the defendant escaped conviction through the disagreement of the jury.

TRAP MOTHER AND BABY. Mrs. M. C. Payne, who resides two miles south of this city, has presented Keeper Rice of the Eastlake Park in Los Angeles with a female badger and its baby only a few weeks old. The animal was trapped near the home of Mrs. Payne in a comfortable den, where it had lived royally on chickens from the Payne's corral.

TIED OF SUFFERING.

Victim of Bright's Disease Kills Himself With Bullet in Wife's Brief Absence.

Despondent because of ill health, Charles D. Hornish of No. 1567 San Pablo street committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself in the left temple. He had been suffering with Bright's disease for several months.

Yesterday morning Hornish did not arise from bed. His wife went to the garden in the rear of the house to get some fresh vegetables for his breakfast. Hearing a shot she ran back into the house and found her husband lying across the bed, a revolver still clutched in his hand. He died in a few moments.

The remains were removed to the Fresno morgue and the coroner will sign a certificate of suicide.

Hornish, who was 51 years of age, had been a writer and real estate man. He leaves a widow and two grown daughters.

Pianist Returns from Catalina to Learn That Husband Had Passed Away.

After a week's outing at Avalon, Lillian May Lancaster Marsden, a pianist well known in local musical circles, returned to the city yesterday to learn that her husband, Theodore T. Marsden, had died at the County Hospital. He was fatally injured recently in a runaway accident.

Several days ago, Marsden was found under a bench near the Plaza. He was unconscious, and was taken to the County Hospital. He passed away without recovering his senses.

Upon her return to Los Angeles, Mrs. Marsden was surprised to find that her husband had not been seen about the hotel for some time, and inquiry brought the sad news of his death.

The funeral was held at the Pierce chapel yesterday afternoon. Interment was in Rosedale Cemetery.

Place on West Adams Street Brings Twenty-five Thousand—To Be Further Improved.

J. J. Haggarty has purchased of J. P. Fitzgerald, through the agency of Dan Miller, the eleven-room dwelling house at No. 2315 West Adams street. The price paid is said to have been $25,000.

The house, which is beautifully situated on a lot 80 feet by 120 feet, is in the mission style, and elegantly finished inside. One of the features is a large veranda inclosed by glass. The largest room is 20x40 feet in dimensions.

Mrs. Haggarty bought for a home, and intends to spend considerable money on further improvements.

SASKATCHEWAN FIRES FATAL.

WINNIPEG, May 7.—Further reports of lives lost in fires in Southern Saskatchewan are at hand. One child was burned to death and four other members of the family are dying. A whole township was burned over and only eight acres of pasture left. The fire started from a German village. Johannes Hadick, a Hollander, aged 64, fighting the flames, perished.

APRIL CIRCULATION OF THE TIMES.

The following are the sworn statements of the circulation of The Times for April, 1920:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, ss. I, Harry Chandler, Assistant General Manager of The Los Angeles Times, being duly sworn, declare that the following is a true and correct copy of the circulation of the Los Angeles Times for the month of April, 1920.

APRIL, 1920.

1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	10.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.	17.	18.	19.	20.	21.	22.	23.	24.	25.	26.	27.	28.	29.	30.

Total circulation for the month of April, 1920, was 310,000.

The average circulation for every day of April, 1920, was 10,333.

Showing an average daily loss of 4,000 over the corresponding month of 1919.

Harry Chandler, Assistant General Manager of The Los Angeles Times, Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of May, 1920.

T. L. CHAPIN, Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

NOTE—The loss in April circulation for this year, compared with the same month of 1919, is attributable to the fact that many thousands of extra copies of The Times were sold and distributed on account of the feet being here during April of last year. At that time an enormous gain over 1917 was shown. The Times did not hope to this year equal its April, 1918, record, because the extra sale both before the warships arrived and during their stay here was phenomenal, and, with the exception of the time of the earthquake in San Francisco, the largest in the history of the paper.

SILVER DART MAY COMPETE.

Dr. Bell's Aeroplanes Will Race at Morris Park if Curtiss Will Pilot It.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) NEW YORK, May 7.—It is probable that Dr. Alexander Graham Bell's aeroplanes, the Silver Dart, now at Baddeck, N. S., will compete in the heavier-than-air contests to be held at Morris Park May 23.

The Aeronautical Society announced last night that Dr. Bell had given his consent to the appearance of the Silver Dart, provided that Glenn H. Curtiss would operate it. The Silver Dart is reported to have made several scores of nine-mile flights over the ice on the lake at Baddeck.

In the Morris Park race, the $2000 prize will be awarded to the machine that has never made a public flight and that makes a successful circuit of the Morris Park course, about one and three-quarter miles, or that remains in the air ten minutes. For a machine going less than this distance, but 5000 feet or more, $1000 will be awarded, or the same amount for having remained seven and a half minutes in the air.

Smaller amounts are to be awarded for shorter distances, but the provision was made that members of the society who succeed in flying 100 feet will receive a prize of $500.

SAN DIEGO. TANGLED BODY TAKEN NORTH.

MONSTER CERTIFIED DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

Belief Is, However, That Young Woman of Butte Committed Suicide by Jumping from Balcony of Fashionable Hotel—Business Man Batters Brother-in-Law.

SAN DIEGO, May 7.—Mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Ada Burleigh, the young wife of T. A. Carney, of Butte, Mont., druggist, whose body was found on the sidewalk in front of a fashionable hotel Wednesday morning.

Her announcement was that it was a case of suicide, and that it still is the belief. The husband insists that his wife fell out of the window, and that it is so convincing. Carney, who certified to an accident in his death certificate.

Mrs. Carney's body was last night taken to Butte, accompanied by the husband and her sister, Mrs. Fred Burleigh. According to the latter, her sister, who was but 21 years of age, was a strikingly handsome young woman, and a violinist of rare ability.

She was accompanied by a man, whom she was much in love with, and who was much in love with her. She was much in love with her, and who was much in love with her.

BOY IS FREE AGAIN. REDLANDS LAD CONTINUES HIS JOURNEY TO MOTHER IN TENNESSEE—ORANGE SHIPMENTS.

REDLANDS, May 7.—Byron Alexander, the messenger boy, aged 15, who ran away from his father Monday and started to see his mother in Morton, Tenn., was intercepted in Salt Lake and placed under arrest, is now again on his journey to Tennessee.

HEAVY ORANGE SHIPMENTS. Orange prices remain low and the logical reason is the heavy shipments which have served to glut the eastern market. From April 1 to May 6, inclusive, 715,000 boxes of oranges were shipped from Southern California, making the total for the season to May, 5,977,273. From April 1 to May 6 last year the shipments amounted to only 481 cars. Although the prices are not nearly lower than they were earlier in the season, yet they remain surprisingly good considering the amount of fruit now in the eastern market. The fruit this season is exceptionally good, quality, large, firm and very sweet, thus commanding better prices.

The shipments for the week ending today from Redlands amount to 50 cars. This is the heaviest ever made the first week in May. The vessels now heavily all going, perhaps fifty or sixty cars remaining. The total shipments from Redlands for the season is 250 cars of oranges and twenty-three boxes of lemons.

MAN'S ABSENCE ALARMS WIFE. HOMESICK HOOSIER SUDDENLY LEAVES HIS HOME.

RIVERSIDE, May 7.—Much alarm is felt by the wife and friends of Bert Bough over his mysterious disappearance from home nearly ten days ago. At first little was thought of his absence, but as the days passed without his return, his pretty young wife became apprehensive of his safety and is grief-stricken. He had been married but three years, and his home life was particularly pleasant. It is believed by his wife that homesickness unbalanced his mind, and that he is going blindly on his way to his native state, Indiana. Bough had been between $10 and $100 in his possession when he disappeared. His wife's efforts have been made to locate him, but no trace of him has been found.

MAKES BLUFF WITH DYNAMITE.

MINE MAN'S THRILLING TALE OF WHICH HE'S HERO.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 7.—Harry Long, determined to obtain a return for financial advances made to his mining partners, James Cousins and Dave Allen, with a package of dynamite "bluffed out" his alleged unfaithful companions in a game which they started, as he asserts, to deprive him of all interest in claims.

A year ago the trio located the Copper Ore group in the Kane Springs country, and while they developed the property Long made regular advances, he says, being encouraged to do so through the good reports sent out regularly by his partners.

A month ago the tone of their letters changed, and for several weeks they claimed to have entirely abandoned the property, which they now say is utterly worthless. Long journeyed to the group and found the place deserted. Inquiry developed the fact that his partners had a purchaser "on the string." They expected, he says, to "clean up" $30,000, after securing a release from him.

Long tucked up a notice warning the public that he was the true owner in the group, and then waited. When his partners returned to the claims they were furious and ordered him to leave. They expected, he says, to "clean up" $30,000, after securing a release from him.

At a recent meeting of the Bear Valley Post, G.A.R., plans were made for Memorial Day exercises. The members will meet at McGinnis Hall and will go in a body to Hillside Cemetery, where the graves of veterans will be decorated with flowers and a ritualistic service will be held. On the Sunday preceding Memorial Day the members of the local post will attend services in a body at Grace M. E. Church, and the pastor, Rev. W. F. Lusk, will preach a special sermon to old soldiers.

John Tracy, aged 42 years, who was a member of the Fire Department since 1890, died at the hospital yesterday from typhoid pneumonia. The news was heralded throughout the city by the tolling of the fire bell forty-six times. He leaves a wife and four children, the eldest about 11 years of age, being at present suffering from the same disease.

HOSTAGES INCREASE.

School census returns received from twenty-nine of the fifty-six school districts in the county show an increase of a little more than ten per cent. in the number of children of school age over the returns last year from these same districts. The reports thus far received are from the smaller schools of the county, for the most part. These give a total of 1079 children between the ages of 5 and 17, against 930 last year.

MAKES CELESTIAL TARGET.

Oxnard Laborer in Ventura Jail Charged With Attempted Murder. Cut Worms' Move.

VENTURA, May 7.—John Rever, a laborer from Oxnard, is in the County Jail. He is charged with having attempted to murder a Chinese resident of that town. The man, who was taken to a store in Oriental Alley, kept by Ben Tee, whipped out a revolver and began shooting at the Celestial. One bullet went through Ben Tee's queue, and the Chinese dropped to the floor. Rever ran out of the place, but was caught just after he had pawned his pistol for $1.25 at a fruit store.

Wednesday, Hayden arrested two Oxnard painters, named Mosier and Hogan. They are accused of forging the name of Warren Roseberry, brother-in-law of Sheriff McPartin, to a check for $14.

The Supervisors gave appropriate $500 for a Ventura County Jail in the Elks' parade in Los Angeles.

ILL BELIEVED DRUNK.

U. O. Holloway, well known in political circles, died at an early hour this morning in the County Hospital, where he had been removed last evening after suffering a stroke of paralysis.

Holloway was walking along Third street, near the County Jail, when he fell. He was carried to the hospital, where he died. He was a well-known figure in the community, and his death is a great loss.

GIRL HAS HER WAY.

Miss Myrtle Cummings, a pretty Riverside girl, was located in a respectable lodging-house here, at an early hour this morning, by her father and Officer Bigger. She had left home because her parent objected to the attention shown her by Jesse Crowell, a popular young fellow of the neighboring town. It is now understood Mr. Cummings has consented to the marriage.

BOY TAKES DECOY.

Admits Tampering With Mail at Colton and Is Caught With Marked Coin.

COLTON, May 7.—Harold Clark, aged 9 years, was arrested this morning by Constable Bagley for tampering with United States mails. For some time A. H. Griswold has been missing mail, and this morning entered a complaint before Bagley. A decoy letter in which a marked coin was placed was placed in Griswold's box and Harold Clark was caught with the coin in his possession. Clark, who lived in the shadowing of Harold's home, was an envelope and a piece of a letter addressed to A. H. Griswold. This morning not only the remainder of the letter, but the entire letters and pieces of others were found at the boy's home. He does not attempt to deny the charge, but says he was shown the combination of Griswold's box by an older lad. This boy he says, knows not only that of Griswold's box, but also the number of others and tampers with the mails constantly. Both boys are under detention and will be held pending investigation by the United States postal authorities.

EVERLYN THAW PAYS FINE.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw did not go to jail today. Instead, representatives of her counsel paid the receiver appointed to take charge of Mrs. Thaw's affairs the amount of $250, the fine imposed for contempt in failure to appear in supplementary proceedings. There still remains to be paid nearly $100.

THE HARVEST BEGINS.

Early Planted Grain Cut at Hemet. Many Orange and Walnut Trees Planted.

HEMET, May 7.—Farmers are beginning to harvest early planted grain. Some of it stands as high as a man's head. The exceedingly high price at which both alfalfa and grain is selling is a great incentive to early cutting. The development of water has greatly stimulated the planting of alfalfa on land which until the last few years was used for dry farming.
